

Summer 2015 Message from outgoing Rabbi Zamore

“Who is rich? One who sees a portion of her dreams fulfilled in her lifetime, and half her dreams fulfilled in the lifetime of her sons and daughters.” - Rabbi Nina Beth Cardin

Dear JCNWJ friends,

This year I mark my chai year -18th year- in the rabbinate. The days have been long; the years have passed quickly. When I take stock of my rabbinate so far, I realize how blessed I have been to teach, lead, and be part of so many lives.

Serving JCNWJ has certainly been part of the rich blessings of my rabbinate. I deeply appreciate the way that you have embraced my family and me and, in turn, allowed me to be a part of your lives and community. I hope the contributions I have made to the religious school, prayer services, adult education, lifecycle rituals, holidays, and pastoral care will continue to enrich the Jewish Center and its members. The Jewish memories we have created together will always be an important part of my rabbinate; the friendships will endure for sure.

I know this beautiful community will continue to grow, evolve, and thrive. Wishing you all good things.

Rabbi Mary L. Zamore
